

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Scott's Emulsion is the means of life and of the enjoyment of life of thousands of men, women and children.

To the men Scott's Emulsion gives the flesh and strength so necessary for the cure of consumption and the repairing of body losses from any wasting disease.

For women Scott's Emulsion does this and more. It is a most sustaining food and tonic for the special trials that women have to bear.

To children Scott's Emulsion gives food and strength for growth of flesh and bone and blood. For pale girls, for thin and sickly boys Scott's Emulsion is a great help.

University News.

Last Tuesday night Texas won the first annual debate between Missouri University and the University of Texas. The question for discussion was "Resolved, That the history of Trade Unions in the United States during the last twenty years shows a tendency detrimental to the best interests of the public." Texas upheld the affirmative and won. This question has been debated this year in five interstate debates and in each case the affirmative has won.

Judge Gant in a talk to students of Missouri University this week characterized the supreme court of Missouri as the "most powerful and powerless" body in the state. "The supreme court," said Judge Gant, "is in some respects the most powerful body in Missouri. It can take a prisoner out of the hands of the Governor or any other officer and from its decrees there is no appeal. But when it comes to protecting itself from the scurrilous attacks of an irresponsible press it is the most helpless body of our government. All the judges can do under such circumstances is to discharge their duties under their oath of office and await the time when public sentiment thus made shall correct itself."

About thirty Missouri University girls have accepted positions as waiters at the World's Fair. Each will work five hours every day and attend the Fair the rest of the time. Most of them will be employed by Mrs. Emma Southwick Brinton, who was in charge of the Log Cabin at the Philadelphia centennial and at the World's Fair in Chicago and who will have a log cabin at the St. Louis exposition. The Log Cabin visitors to Chicago will remember, contained a little museum of colonial curiosities, Peregrine White's cradle, John Alden's desk and the like and that Mrs. Brinton and her aids served baked beans to all comers. Many of her assistants were teachers and college girls who wanted to visit the Exposition at small expense. "She will make the same arrangements this year."

Mr. R. L. Hawkins, who received his Masters degree from the University of Missouri in 1900 and later held the position of instructor of French for two years in the same institution, has just been appointed Traveling Fellow to Harvard University. Mr. Hawkins spent last year at Harvard and is now studying French in one of the leading Universities of Paris. His election to a Fellowship will entitle him to a year's study and travel through the countries of Europe and afford him a stepping stone to a position in an American University when he returns. Three of the present faculty of Missouri University were at one time Traveling Fellows to Harvard—Professor Weeks of the Romance department, Professor Trenholme of the history department and Professor Hedrick of the department of mathematics.

A little incident occurred in the Montana Supreme court the other day which illustrates the indissoluble bond that binds Missouri men to Missouri institutions.

Tommy Marlow, a Norborne, Mo., boy was presented to the supreme court of Montana for a license that would entitle him to appear before that honorable body in the capacity of a practicing attorney. "From what school did you graduate?" asked Judge Milburn. "From the University of Missouri and Yale." "Yale is good enough for me," replied Judge Milburn who is a Yale man. "I'm from Missouri," said Justice Holloway, "and I graduated from the same school." "I seem to be in the minority here," observed Chief Justice Brantley. "But since Justice Holloway vouches for you, I'll concur in the opinion. I guess you will do."

President Jesse of University thinks that young men ought to study agriculture in preference to law or medicine. In a recent publication he says:

"Unless a boy has a deep seated preference for some other profession it does not seem to me wise for him to ignore the great opportunities that agriculture offers whether he was born in the country or in the city. In my opinion no other occupation offers so rich rewards, all things considered, as agriculture offers to those who are willing to train themselves for it as earnestly and intelligently as they would train themselves for law or medicine. If a boy will put the same time and study into his training for agriculture that he would put into his training for law or medicine he will in the great majority of cases make more money, enjoy greater freedom, better health and develop stronger character."

Keep the Balance Up.

It has been truthfully said that any disturbance of the even balance of health causes serious trouble. No body can be too careful to keep this balance up. When people begin to lose appetite, or to get tired easily, the least imprudence brings on sickness, weakness or debility. The system needs a tonic, craves it, and should not be denied it; and the best tonic of which we have any knowledge is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What this medicine has done in keeping healthy people healthy, in keeping up the even balance of health, gives it the same distinction as a preventive that it enjoys as a cure. Its early use has illustrated the wisdom of the old saying that a stitch in time saves nine. Take Hood's for appetite, strength and endurance.

Good Citizens' League.

A number of citizens met Tuesday night at the Christian church and organized a good Citizens' League of Warrensburg, Mo. The purpose of this organization is to try to aid in improving the moral condition of the city. Quite a number of our citizens are taking an active part in this matter and there should be a great deal of good accomplished, if the proper spirit is manifested and the members of the League are really sincere and earnest in the warfare which they intend waging against evils in Warrensburg.—Johnson County Star.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has been used in our family for some time, and always with good results. Last spring I was all run down and got a bottle of it, and as usual received great benefit." Miss BRULAN BOWEN, Stowe, Vt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

The Citizens Changes Hands.

G. W. and C. D. Newton have bought the Saline Citizen, and took possession Monday. C. D. Newton will have the business and editorial management of the paper. Charlie has had long experience in the newspaper business, having been connected with the Progress office since he was a boy, and knows it practically, as well as theoretically. He will, no doubt, do well with the paper, and that he may, is the sincere wish of the Democrat-News.

We understand Mr. Hamill has decided to go back to his farm. While we are sorry that he is tired of the newspaper world, and has decided to leave Marshall, we are glad that he will still stay in Saline. We have not heard the plans of Mr. George Davis who has had editorial charge of the paper, but hope that he and his family will remain in Marshall. No paper in the city has ever been more ably edited than the citizen since Mr. Davis has had charge of its columns, and he will be missed in that capacity.—Marshall Democrat News.

Value of Mammoth Clover.

Men of experience say that mammoth clover will produce twice as much pasturage for stock as the medium red if it is kept well grazed. When heavily stocked the amount of feed produced by an acre of land is enormous. If the clover is not kept short, the growth is too coarse and is not relished as well as the medium red.

It is the common experience of stockmen that the bloating of cattle on clover may be prevented by having some timothy mixed with the clover. There may be exceptions to this rule, but I have heard many cattlemen say that they have never known of any.

Sam. B. Cook is a faithful public servant, who never betrayed a trust, who stands by his friends, who is a democrat feared by the republicans and hated by the Globe-Democrat above other democrats. He has shown the books, and has been one of the best and ablest secretaries of whom the state of Missouri is proud. He is a candidate for re-election and is the best democratic fighter on the list.—Montgomery Standard.

Ceremonies at Washington.

The ceremonies attendant upon the opening of the great World's Fair at St. Louis from this end of the line were conducted in the White House without a break. Promptly at one o'clock on the afternoon of April 30th, the President of the United States pressed the key of a Morse telegraph instrument in the East room of the White House and through direct wire connection which had been arranged by the Postal Telegraph Company conveyed instantaneously to the great central switchboard on the World's Fair grounds the electric energy which released the 40,000 horse power required to operate the Cascades, the great engines in the Machinery Hall and other mechanism of the great Exposition. The members of the Cabinet, the Diplomatic Corps, the Chief Justice and the Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House of Representatives together with several other distinguished personages were present in the White House during the ceremony. A national salute of 21 guns was fired on the Monument grounds. Just south of the White House, immediately following the official opening of the Exposition and the Marine band was there and discoursed sweet music. In fact we in Washington were the only people in the country who knew the exact opening of the great show except those actually participating in St. Louis.

It may be interesting not only to newspaper men throughout the country, but to the people generally to know that the World's Press Parliament, which will be in session at St. Louis from May 16 to 21, will be the greatest gathering of newspaper men ever brought together. It is estimated that between three and four thousand representative newspaper men from every state in the Federal Union and every country in the world, will be present. In the number will be some of the most distinguished foreign journalists from the various capitals of Europe.

Secretary of State Hay will open the Parliament with a thirty minutes talk. Other speakers already on the programme will be Charles Emory Smith, Col. Henry Watterson and Edward Bok. During the session receptions will be given by the Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, Arizona, Georgia, Texas, Oklahoma, Iowa, West Virginia and Idaho commissions, the Federation of Women's Club, and the exposition itself. The entertainment will conclude with a trip down the Mississippi river on a palatial steamer. For once the newspaper men will be strictly in it.

EXPOSURE

To cold draughts of air, to keen and cutting winds, sudden changes of temperature, scanty clothing, undue exposure of the throat and neck after public speaking and singing, bring on coughs and colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best cure.

Mrs. A. Barr, Houston, Texas, writes, Jan. 31, 1903: "One bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup cured me of a very bad cough. It is very pleasant to take." For sale by Crenshaw & Young, 25c, 50c, $1.00. 5-7ml

A Cure For Roup.

I notice you have frequent inquiries for a roup remedy. The simplest and most effective remedy we ever tried is simply smoking the fowls with gas tar. This you do all night when the chickens are all on the roosts. Take an old kettle with a few live coals in it, and smear tar on old rags or sticks and lay on coals and you will soon have your hens sneezing. We have as pray filled with gas tar and crude carbolic which we use frequently around the henhouse, also around the hoghouse and cow barn, and we find it quite satisfactory.—J. W. Kraft.
